We Are Called to Worship
One: We've brought a lot of baggage with us today, Lord:
All: Our pockets bulge with our toys and our agendas.
One: Come to worship as you are--rich or poor, anxious or calm...
All: We're still the people of god, on a journey to holiness.

One: Let us pray together:
We groan and mutter about all the equipment and armor we must carry, and yet we're reluctant to let any of it go! Afraid of being considered too simple, we've developed jargon and gadgets to announce our sophistication. We claim nostalgia for a time we never knew, yet we shun inconvenience. Sift our souls, Lord, that we might know what's really important -- and what we can leave behind. Help us to travel light, to let our baggage lie at the foot of your cross. Save us from drowning in ourselves, Lord Jesus. Amen

This ends with the words: "Lord, in Your Love," the people respond: "Hear our prayers."*
